Dissociative identity disorder (DID), previously known as multiple personality disorder, is a mental disorder characterized by at least two distinct and relatively enduring personality states. This is accompanied by memory gaps beyond what would be explained by ordinary forgetfulness. These states alternately show in a person's behavior; presentations, however, are variable.

Being co-conscious is when two or more parts are present and aware at the same time. There awareness of each other can vary. It may feel like you are very blended together and in sync with one another or it may feel like you are both working in tandem together, like co-pilots. My favorite metaphor ...
